Hi Rod,

Here's Mscript V5.5 for Larken and Oliger. Note that the Larken variety now comes with a bunch of new (and some old) Larken disk utilities which I have given into the public domain. You're welcome to copy them (and their doc files) from the enclosed Larken disk before sending it to your customer. These files are marked "!" in the file list provided in the README.CT text.

The retail price of Mscript V5.5 with disks for 2 systems is 25.00 + 5.00 or 30.00. Thus you owe me 1/2 of that, or $15.00.

I have decided to KEEP all my computer stuff, despite moving. I'll find a place to stash it somehow. It's just too dear to me to think about parting with anytime soon. However, if you get a request from a 2068 person for something that you don't have, feel free always to try me. I do have duplicates of a lot of stuff.

Incidentally, I now have schematics of the Larken interface and cartridge available, for anyone who needs them. If I have time to get to the copy place before mailing this, I'll include some copies. All thanks and praise for the schematics is due to Bob Orrfelt, who drew them. Now that they exist, it is possible to make a Larken interface and/or cartridge, but because it'd have to be hand-wired, the cost might be prohibitive.

I intend to steal some evening time in which to finish my new eprom burner, and make some more 32K eproms, before moving. But who knows whether my intention will prevail?

You can use my new address beginning now, since I'm working at the new house nearly every day.

Best regards,
